

Social and Personal

The Tide of Love.

As ocean clasps the yielding shore,
My love would hold thee near;
I watch beside the heart's high tide,
For tidings of thee, dear.
As one who waits for treasure ships,
To bear across the sea,
I wait the treasure thy dear lips
Alone can bring to me.

In on the tide of love,
Sail to thy victory;
All in the pride of love,
Banners unfurled,
Thou art my argosy;
Come to me speedily!
I am the mate for thee,
World of my world!

As night the tired earth enfolds,
And lulls with soft caress,
My love would share thy every care
And comfort thy distress.
As morning dawns to greet the sun,
While joyful mistis arise,
My pulses toward thee madly run,
While love bedims my eyes.

On the dawn-tide of love
Come to the heart's desire,
Proud with the pride of love—
Pier of fire!
Love, love, I wait for thee;
Come to me speedily!
Thou art the mate for me,
World of my world!

Fitzgerald—Sullivan.

The marriage celebration of Miss May Sullivan, the daughter of Mr. L. F. Sullivan, controller of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, and Mr. Morrison Fitzgerald, the son of Mr. William H. Fitzgerald, took place Tuesday evening, November 23, in Sacred Heart Church, at 6 o'clock.

The bride was given in white crepe de chine and had as her ornaments a set of pearls and diamonds worn by the groom's mother and grandmother when they were young.

Adelade Sullivan was maid of honor; Miss Irene Fitzgerald and Miss Josephine Sullivan, the bridesmaids. The groom's best man was Mr. William H. Kern, of Philadelphia, and the groomsmen, Mr. R. L. Montague, Mr. L. F. Sullivan, Jr., Mr. Horace Redford and Mr. W. R. Brown.

The ceremony was followed by a small reception in the bride's home, where many beautiful and valuable wedding gifts were displayed. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald left for a wedding trip to San Francisco, via New Orleans, San Antonio, Los Angeles and Pasadena. They will be at No. 1109 Grove Avenue after January 1st.

Out-of-town wedding guests included: Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hurley and Mr. William H. Kerne, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fuller, Washington, D. C.; Miss Bettie McKee, of Kentucky; the Misses Fitzgerald, of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Fallon, Jr., of North Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sullivan, of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. O'Connor, of Indianapolis; Dr. and Mrs. Renshaw, of Pensacola, Fla.; Mr. N. R. Johnson and Mr. H. S. Calcutt, of Cincinnati.

Dunlap—Wysor.

One of the most notable marriages that has taken place in Pulaski for several seasons was solemnized at the Methodist Church, Thursday evening, November 18th, when Miss Emma Wysor, daughter of Hon. J. C. Wysor, was married to Mr. Robert Finley Dunlap, of Hinton, W. Va.

The church had been decorated under the direction of Mrs. N. A. Sayers and had never been so beautiful. A background of rhododendron and other evergreens, with masses of chrysanthemums, made a most artistic and pleasing effect.

Long before the hour arrived the church was thronged with friends to witness the marriage, in which there was wide interest. Promptly at 8 o'clock, Mrs. John Wyckoff sang very beautifully the solo, "You."

The bridal party then entered the church to the strains of the wedding march rendered by Miss Annie Killey, of West Virginia.

First came the ushers, Mr. E. Lee Tunkle, of Wytheville; Mr. W. R. Miller, of Hinton, W. Va.; Mr. L. C. Gardner, of Dublin; Mr. C. G. Laun, of Columbus, O.; and Messrs. J. P. and J. L. Wysor, brothers of the bride. Next came little Miss Mary Wysor, the ring-bearer, daintily dressed in white silk, and Miss Harriet Wysor, maid of honor, beautifully gowned in pink embroidered chiffon, wearing a pink picture hat and carrying pink chrysanthemums. After these came Mr. Dunlap, with his best man, Mr. W. H. Sayers, of Hinton, W. Va. Then came the bride, dressed in white broadcloth; her veil draped with orange blossoms and carrying a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. She entered with her father. The party grouped themselves about the altar, and the beautiful ceremony was performed in an impressive manner by the Rev. M. J. Wysor, uncle of the bride.

Mrs. Dunlap possesses rare traits of character, and a broad culture which go to the making of a lovely woman. Mr. Dunlap is a native of Pulaski county, a member of one of its most prominent families, and is now a successful young attorney in his adopted State.

Many handsome and beautiful presents were received, one of the most substantial was a deed to a house and lot, given by Mr. R. L. Gardner, the uncle of the bride.

The young couple left on the evening train for Jacksonville and other points South, carrying with them the best wishes of a host of friends.

Hamilton—Burch.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McNamee have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Belle Woody Burch, to Dr. Embree Garland Hamilton.

The wedding will be celebrated Tuesday evening, December 6th, in the home of the bride, No. 315 East Leigh Street. Miss Burch is widely known in the social circles of Richmond, where she enjoys great popularity. Dr. Hamilton has also a number of friends in the city. The PEMBERTON PRICE & CO.

"Peerless" Paper Patterns, 5c, 10c, 15c.

Thanksgiving Day

Will soon be here, with its toothsome suggestions of good things to eat. Did you ever notice how much more was the enjoyment when these good things were served upon snowy and immaculate napery?

In LINENS we always have the best: that Germany or Ireland can produce. Any finish you may fancy, with the warrant of our experience behind every detail.

NAPKINS we offer in a splendid value at $1.00 the dozen. Then come the better and larger sizes at $1.50, $2.00, $2.25, $2.50. For the many who want high art Linens we ask an examination of the hand-loom, satin-finished Napkins from $5.00 to $12.00 the dozen.

Damask by the yard from 50c to $2.50.

Note especially the Breakfast Doylies we have at $1.00 the dozen, of German manufacture and of good service.

As to TOWELS we want you at least to see the softness and luxury of the real Barnsleys at $9.00, $10.00, $11.00 and $12.00 the dozen; they look too good for the bath and some folks use them for centerpieces. "For human nature's daily needs" we come down to the sterling TOWELS at $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 the dozen. We cannot be excelled on our H. S. TOWELS at 25c each.

Do not imagine we slight the PERSON when these TABLE CLOTHING are enumerated.

For the festive season at hand we have provided COTTON CREPES, in all the evening tints, 12c and 15c.

White JAPANESE SILKS, those fabrics that the laundry seems to enhance—39c, 50c, 65c, 75c and up.

COLORS in all delicate shadings at 50c.

PLAIN and FIGURED NETS for combination or for entire gowns.

For the frugal and thrifty we suggest the Voiles and Albatross, all wool, at 39c and 50c.

It is ever our ambition to have just the item you want. If you will allow us, we can generally manage to suit your taste and pocket-book.

GLOVES and STOCKINGS are extremes, but both are strong factors in our business.

No patterns are better, and think of the prices—Peerless Paper Patterns, 5c, 10c, 15c.

309 East Broad Street.

marriage will be one of the noteworthy events of the early winter.

Rummage Sale.

The managers of the Sheltering Arms Free Hospital will hold a rummage sale for the benefit of the hospital during the week of November 23rd-December 1st. Their friends are requested to send everything they can spare to No. 199 East Main Street.

Persons who have no means of sending their packages will please notify Mrs. Adamson, No. 501 East Grace Street, or Mrs. George T. King, No. 617 West Grace Street.

Miss Russell's Engagement.

The Winchester Evening News has the following mention of an engagement in which many Richmond people will be greatly interested. It says:

Announcement was made to-day by Mr. and Mrs. James B. Russell of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary E. Russell, to Mr. Gardner W. Brown, of New York. The date of the wedding, it is understood, has not been definitely fixed, but will probably take place some time in the winter, and is certain to be the most brilliant affair of the kind in Winchester in recent years.

Miss Russell, as is well known, is universally regarded as one of the most beautiful of all the Virginia beauties, and she has hosts of friends throughout the East and South, who admire her lovely character. Of an old Virginia family, she is intensely popular and a general favorite among a large circle of acquaintances, who enjoy her friendly disposition toward all. Miss Russell's father, Mr. James B. Russell, is one of Winchester's most prominent and public-spirited citizens, and president of the Union Bank.

Mr. Brown is a financial member of the New York Stock Exchange and president of Mr. Vernon H. Brown, vice-president of the Cunard Steamship Company. He is a gentleman of progressive business ideas and has been very successful in financial circles. Mr. Brown has visited in Winchester, and has many friends here.

Miss Russell is now in New York, having gone some time ago to attend the Horse Show, with friends. She has several times visited Mrs. R. Carter Scott, in Richmond, where she has many admirers. She was considered the most beautiful woman seen at the Richmond Horse Show, of 1902.

Donation Day.

Thanksgiving, November 24th, is Donation Day, at the Baptist Home, corner of Grove Avenue and Harvie Streets. Contributions of all kinds will be thank-

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Professor Charles Eliot Norton.

No. 348.

REQUIESCAT

By MATTHEW ARNOLD.

Other selections from Arnold, his autograph, portrait and biographical sketch have already appeared in this series.

STREW on her roses, roses,
And never a spray of yew, yew;
In silence she reposes,
And would that I did, too.

The world her smiles required,
And she bathed it in mirth and glee,
But her heart was tired, tired,
So now they let her be.

Her life was turning, turning,
In mazes of heat and sound;
But for peace her heart was yearning,
And now peace laps her round.

Her cabin'd, ample spirit,
It fluttered and failed for breath.
To-night she doth inherit
The vasty hall of death.

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, October 11, 1903. One is published each day.

fully received at the Home by a committee appointed for the purpose.

Supper and Bazaar.

A Thanksgiving supper will be given and a bazaar will be held by the Home Circle of King's Daughters and Sons in the lecture-room of Christ Episcopal Church, at the corner of Twenty-second and Venable Streets, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. Admission will be free.

Glee Club at Academy.

With the arrival of the Glee and Mandolin Club from the University of Virginia this afternoon and their appearance at the Academy this evening, the real festivities attendant upon the celebration of Thanksgiving will begin.

The sale of seats for the performance to-night has justified the expectations of the Board of the Home for Needy Confederate Women, at whose invitation the Glee and Mandolin Club will come to Richmond.

The fact that their success will benefit an institution in which many of the citizens are warmly interested and which offers shelter and comfort to women who are poor and helpless; the additional fact that the University Club has been greeted with unprecedented enthusiasm in their appearance at other cities, renders the presentation of their programme here a great prospective walkover.

The ladies interested have worked hard to secure something fine in the way of an attraction which Richmond audiences and people have never failed to appreciate and welcome. The welcome will doubtless be as cordial and the pleasure as genuine to-night as ever before.

To Benefit Day Nursery.

The fancy sale and other attractions to be held by a number of younger members of Richmond society Friday, November 25th, from 4 to 7 o'clock P. M., in the Executive Mansion will be given by the young ladies directing it, for the benefit of the Bell Bryan Day Nursery and Free Kindergarten.

Many pretty articles will be offered for sale and many attractions devised for the amusement of young and old. The young ladies invite the attention of their friends and express the hope of being able to give them a prompt welcome on Friday next.

Personal Mention.

Miss Alice and Miss Lou Leigh, with their brother, Mr. Julius Leigh, will occupy their home, No. 32 West Main Street, this winter.

Miss Morland, of Charleston, and little Master Reginald Morland, who have been the guests of Miss Morland's brother, Mr. Andrew Morland, at No. 26 East Franklin Street, since September, have left for South Carolina. Both made many friends in Richmond, who regretted sincerely to have them go.

Mrs. M. H. Omohundro, who has been visiting Mr. A. F. Moon, at Tamworth, has just returned home.

The Emma Andrews Whist Club will meet Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock with Mrs. Ben Nash, at No. 800 West Franklin Street.

Miss da Ponte, the secretary of the Atlanta Agency of the International Paper Company, will be the guest of her sister, Miss Aetia da Ponte, for Thanksgiving.

Miss Irene Baber, of Shores, Va., is visiting Mrs. Omohundro, of Home.

Mr. Tom Elliott is expected to spend his Thanksgiving holidays in this city with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Elliott, of No. 115 South Third Street.

Miss Anna Deane Carr and Miss Julia Bigdow participated in an after-dinner country dance, given this week at the Norfolk Country Club.

Supreme Court Proceedings.

Proceedings of the Supreme Court of Appeals and others vs. Shields, trustees, and others. Fully argued by R. Randolph Hicks for appellants and J. Tucker Brooke for appellees, and submitted.

Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad vs. Johnston and others. Parly argued by Hill Carter for plaintiff in error, and A. H. Sands for defendant in error, and continued until to-morrow morning.

Beach, &c., vs. Bellwood and others; Burwell vs. Burwell's Administrator and Rocky Mount Loan and Trust Company vs. Price, et al., being Nos. 4, 5 and 6 on argument docket.

It is a long road sometimes to a Sorosis Shoe dealer, but those who know the Sorosis are bound to travel it.

the Worsleys, the swords of the Clarks, the bonny heads of the Lucies, the crescents of the Boytons, and the wolf and dagger of the Lipscombs. So through England passed down through the dark pines of Roncesvalles to the plains of Spain.

It was on a Monday that the Duke of Lancaster's division passed safely through the Pyrenees. On the Tuesday there was a bitter frost, and the ground raked like iron beneath the feet of the horses; yet ere evening the pace himed swift with the main battle of his army, had passed the gorge and united with his vanguard at Pampeluna. With him rode the King of Majorca, the hostage King of Navarre, and the fierce Don Pedro, of Spain, whose pale blue eyes gleamed with a sinister light as they rested once more upon the distant peaks of the Pyrenees which had disowned him. Under the royal banners rode many a bold Gascon baron and many a hot-blooded islander. Here were the high stewards of Aquitaine, of Baintone, of La Rochelle, of Quercy, of Limousin, of Agenois, of Poitou, and of Burgundy, with the banners and masters of their provinces. Here also were the valiant Earl of Angus, Sir Thomas Banaster, with his garter over his grave, Sir Nele Loring, second cousin to Sir Nigel, and a long column of Welsh footmen, who marched under the red banner of Merlin. From dawn till sunset the long train wound through the pass, their breath reeking up upon the frosty air like the steam from a cauldron.

The weather was less keen upon the Wednesday, and the rear guard made good their passage, with the bombards and the wagon train. Free companions and Gascons made up this portion of the army to the number of ten thousand men. The fierce Sir Hugh Calverley, with his yellow mane, and the rugged Sir Robert Knolles, with their war-hardened and veteran companies of English bowmen, headed the long column; while behind them came the turbulent bands of the Bastard of Breteuil, the Duke of Burgundy, and others whose very names seem to smack of hard hands and ruthless deeds. With them also were the pick of the Gascon chivalry—the old Duc d'Armagnac, his nephew Lord d'Albret, brooding and scowling over his wrongs, the giant Oliver de Clisson, the Capital de Buch, plunk of knighthood, the sprightly Sir Perducas d'Albret, the red-bearded Lord d'Esparre, and a long train of needy and grasping border nobles, with long pedleries and short purses, who had come down from their hill-side strongholds, all hungering for the spoils and the ransoms of Spain. By the Thursday morning the whole army was encamped in the Vale of Pampeluna, and the prince had called his council to meet him in the old palace of the ancient city of Navarre.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

HOW THE COMPANY MADE SPORT IN THE VALE OF PAMPELUNA.

Whilst the council was sitting in Pampeluna the White Company, having encamped in a neighboring valley, close to the companies of La Nuft and of Black Ortingo, were amusing themselves with sword-play, wrestling and shooting at the shields, which they had placed upon the hillside to serve them as butts. The younger archers, with their coats of mail thrown aside, their brows or faxen hair tossing in the wind, and their jerkins turned back to give free play to their brawny chests and arms, stood in lines, each loosing his shaft in turn, while Johnston, Aylward, Black Simon and half-a-score of the elders lounged up and down with critical eyes, and a word of rough praise or of cut censure for the marksmen. Behind stood knots of Gascon and Brebant crossbowmen from the companies of Ortingo and of La Nuft, leaning upon their unsightly weapons and watching the practice of the Englishmen.

"A good shot, Hewitt, a good shot!" said old Johnston to a young bowman, who stood with his bow in his left hand, gazing with parted lips after his flying shaft. "You see, she finds the ring, as I knew she would from the moment that your string twanged."

"A good shot, steady, and yet sharp," said Aylward. "By my hill mon gar, it is very well when you do, but shoot at a shield, but when there is a man behind the shield, and he rides at you with wave of sword and glint of eyes from behind his visor, you may find him a less easy mark."

"It is a mark that I have found before now," answered the young bowman. "And shall, again, comrades, I doubt not. But hold! Johnston, who is this who holds his bow like a crowkeeper?"

(To Be Continued To-morrow.)

DUNLOP PATENT FLOUR

The best of Cooking Schools in the Country

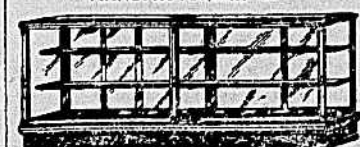

But more important still: The great hostels, rias and the best housekeepers everywhere testify that it's THE PUREST, CLEANEST AND RICHEST FLOUR they have ever used. It makes more bread and better bread. It is the most nutritious and most economical. All good grocers sell it or will order it.

MILLED ONLY AT

Dunlop Mills, Richmond, Va.

RICHMOND WOOD WORKING COMPANY.

14 North Seventh,
MANUFACTURERS OF

Show Cases

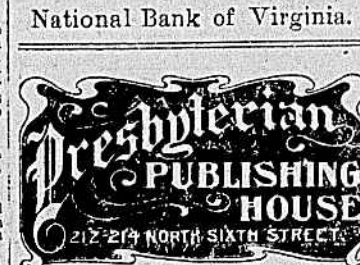

In all sizes and styles.

OFFICE FURNITURE AND FIXTURES.

Now fitting up the Merchants

National Bank and

National Bank of Virginia.

Wedding

Invitations,

Wedding

Announcements,

Announcements, Anniversary, Party and Dinner Invitations, Reception, At Home, Tea and Visiting Cards engraved. Material of highest grade and skilled workmanship. Samples furnished on application.

WRITING PAPERS.

We have a new stock of Whittings, Hurd's and Crane's Fine Writing Papers, latest shades and sizes.

Prescription

Compounding

Is one of the principal features of our increasing business. As an evidence of the fact and the faith the people have in us, we can say that we have filled more than 15,000 prescriptions since our prescription department has been installed. When you have a prescription to be filled, bring it to us. We offer you the same liberal reduction on prescriptions as we do on everything in our stores. Remember you get just what the doctor orders when you bring your prescription to us.

TRAGLE'S CUT

RATE DRUG STORE

817 EAST BROAD STREET.

21 WEST BROAD.

OH GEORGE, THIS IS SO SUDDEN!

But I'm Glad

you can get Watches, Diamonds, Wedding Rings and anything in the Jewelry line from

J. S. JAMES,

Jeweler and Optician,
Seventh and Main Sts.

CASH OR CREDIT.

THE W. B. BRADLEY

CONSTRUCTION CO.,

Seventeenth and Dock Sts.,
RICHMOND, VA.,

General Contractors.

Specialties: Pile Driving and Foundation Work, Wharf Building and General River Work, Concrete Construction. Phone 2018.

"LAXO takes the place of calomel."

BY MAIL

Best Sewing Machine Needles

FOR ALL MAKES OF MACHINES

ONLY 5 CENTS

Per Package.

Postage one cent for 1 to 20 packages. Bend Coin or Stamps. State kinds wanted.

Address THE SINGER MANFG CO., 19 West Broad Street, RICHMOND, VIRGINIA.